About our client

For our client, a globally active biopharmaceutical company with a high-tech biotech production site in Central Switzerland, we are looking for a motivated Biotech Production Operator (m/f/d). The site plays a key role in developing and manufacturing innovative biotechnological active substances and supplying medicines for clinical studies around the world.

Your responsibilities

- ✓ Support material staging, transfers, inspections and inventory checks in a GMP environment
- ✓ Assist with the assembly and disassembly of single-use systems and process equipment
- ✓ Carry out sampling activities based on approved sampling plans, SOPs and batch records
- ✓ Prepare and clear manufacturing rooms, including equipment setup and cleaning
- ✓ Perform routine tasks in Weigh & Dispense, upstream and downstream solution supply areas
- ✓ Support washer and autoclave operations according to validated cycles
- ✓ Assist with calibration and routine maintenance of production equipment
- ✓ Accurately complete GMP documentation such as batch records, logbooks and electronic systems
- ✓ Flag deviations, safety observations or irregularities and support audits when needed

Your profile

- ✓ Completed technical or scientific vocational training (e.g. biotechnology, chemistry, lab technician)
- ✓ At least 3 years of hands-on experience in a GMP manufacturing environment, ideally biotech or pharma
- ✓ Solid knowledge of GMP and ALCOA+ principles
- ✓ Comfortable working in a cleanroom and handling both single-use and stainless-steel equipment
- ✓ A structured, detail-oriented way of working paired with a strong sense of compliance

- ✓ Team spirit you'll be working in pairs within the production areas
- ✓ Fluent in German and English
